Johnson to Retain Top Officials

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson expects to move into his first four-year term in the White House with virtually the same Cabinet team put together by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Lyndon B. Johnson called for a united America facing the world as one yesterday as his smashing election victory took his popular vote margin near a record 15 million votes.

Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater, who had gone to bed knowing he was deluged from coast to coast, finally made a formal concession at noon yesterday. He read to a news conference a telegram of congratulations to the President.

At the time Goldwater made his announcement, late tabulations had counted a total of more than 65 million votes. This was divided 40,597,687 for Johnson and 25,636,878 for Goldwater.

The one state listed as doubtful was Arizona, Goldwater's home state. He was leading in the reported vote.

Johnson repeatedly has told friends in recent days that he wants each member of the Cabinet to stay with him, that he seeks no resignations.

Time and again, the President has spoken of having had great good fortune in inheriting top policy advisers whom he considers topnotch.

Johnson, over the past 11 months, has been particularly free with praise of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

He has gone out his way also to speak highly of Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, the former North Carolina governor who often was reported on his way out during the final months of the Kennedy administration.

In many of his campaign speeches, Johnson also talked in glowing terms about Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, with whom he was said to have had somewhat shaky relations earlier in the year.

When he took office, Johnson was offered resignations by all members of the Kennedy Cabinet. He declined to receive them.

Pub Committee Recommends Position, Raise

Recommendations for a fourth Sentinel associate editor and a salary raise for the associate editors from $10 to $20 a month were presented to Central Board by Publications committee last night. Pub committee also recommended Ken Berry, junior, for Venture art editor and Dan Mullen, junior, for Sentinel associate editor.

Applications for M Book editor will be due in two weeks.

Liffring, Price to Discuss Student Government

Bob Liffring, student body president, and Kent Price, planning board chairman, will discuss the role of student government tomorrow at Montana Forum.

Student government activities accomplishments this year and what is planned for the future are included in the talks.

Forum will meet tomorrow noon in YELLOWSTONE CONFERENCE ROOMS 2 and 3.

the Oval after parading her around campus to the sound of a pair of horns.

A sawing demonstration and a sawing contest between foresters, girls and even a lawyer was in the Baby Oval at noon. And a beard judging in the Forestry Building last night marked the end of another Boondocker's Day.

Tickets will be on sale in front of the Lodge for the rest of the week.

Everything is ready for the Forester's Ball Friday and Saturday nights in the MSU Field House.

The foresters have new attractions this year and expect to have one of the best balls ever, according to Ron Kazmierczak, publicity chairman.

There will be entertainment and the "Black Cat Saloon" will be set up to exchange soft drinks for a kiss.

Kazmierczak advised students to attend Friday night.

"Tickets will be limited for Saturday night to allow the persons from Bozeman to attend," he said.

Rev. Pike Talks Today

Liberal Bishop to View Church

An Episcopal bishop, who has been labeled a publicity hound by his critics and a "clear-thinking advocate" of liberal Christianity by his supporters, will speak in the University Theater today at 4 p.m. about "A Time for Christian Candor."

The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike has come under national attack because of his openly expressed, liberal views on such traditional church beliefs as the virgin birth, the Trinity and the Roman Catholic stand on birth control.

In 1961 high church officials from Georgia moved to have him removed from the church on charges of heresy. The charges were dismissed.

Bishop Pike says he is a religious liberal who "seeks a more effective relation between modern thought and the traditional doctrines of the churches. When a person enters a church," he said, "he shouldn't be asked to park his education outside."

He was a Roman Catholic until he was 20. At 29 he had been married, divorced and remarried and claimed to be an atheist.

He received an A.B. in political science and law and an LL.B. from the University of Southern California. In 1938 he was awarded the Doctor of the Science of Law.

He decided to study for the ministry when assigned to shore duty in the Navy during World War II. He was ordained in 1946 and appointed curator at St. John's Church, Washington, D.C.

Bishop Pike taught law at the Catholic University of America, George Washington University and at Columbia University for The bishop has served as Protestant Episcopal bishop of the Diocese of California since 1958.

The colorful cleric, who disagreed with Roman Catholic Cardinal Spellman when the Catholic prelate condemned the movie "Baby Doll," said that the task of the church "is not to prevent the portrayal of reality, but to find answers to questions such portrayals raised."

Although the bishop is strongly opposed by some conservative elements of the Christian church, those who support him do so with dedicated fervor. The Rev. Walter Donald Kring, speaking for many of the bishop's supporters, said: "I admire the bishop because he has the courage to say what he thinks in an area which is so glossed over with platitudes as to render the whole church theology meaningless."

Barry Admits Defeat

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—After his crushing defeat Sen. Barry Goldwater today conceded victory to President Johnson.

"I have no bitterness, no rancor at all," Goldwater said.

"Congratulations on your victory," he wired Johnson.

"I will help you in any way I can toward achieving a growing and better America and a secure and dignified peace.

"The role of the Republican party will remain that temper, but it also remains the party of the opposition."

Despite his overwhelming loss, the beaten Republican nominee made clear he intended to remain at the helm of the Republican party.

"I don't feel that the conservative cause has been hurt," he said. "Nineteen hundred and sixty-eight is a long time off, but 'as of now, I would think they would probably pick another man to run.'"

Goldwater said his defeat, "to some degree, although not a major degree," was caused by Republicans who would not work for the top of the ticket.

Sentinel Positions Approved

Jones Talks at CB Defending ASGUSA

Rick Jones, former ASMSU president, defended the worth of the Associated Student Governments of the U.S.A. last night at Central Board.

Jones, delegate to the ASGUSA convention last year, reported that its purpose was to "furnish some of the answers about the role of student government in such fields as academic affairs, judicial councils, and social regulations."

Jones said that ASGUSA discusses the value and functions of student government and furnishes a year-round flow of information between member schools. ASMSU could benefit by joining ASGUSA, Jones stated.

ASGUSA does not discuss political issues. "It was formed by a group of southern students who were dissatisfied with the National Students' Association which spends most of its time haggling over political issues," Jones said.

In other business, CB discussed the program on KMSO-TV, "University Profile," which will feature ASMSU officers and students in a 15-minute informative program. Tomorrow's program will include Nancy Taylor, Parents' Day chairman; Nikki Paulsrud, Traditions Board chairman, and a member of Foresters' Club.

A letter from the chairman of MSC's Blood Drawing committee charged MSU with stealing and losing the MSU-MSU traveling trophy.

The trophy is awarded to the school which donates the most pints of blood to the Red Cross each year. A search for the trophy is in progress.

The report on the weekend's events stated that the MSC train will arrive at noon Saturday and that there would be 25 members of the MSC student government here to attend the luncheon for the MSU and MSC governments.

The Sigma Chi chapters from both schools will play the annual intramural football championship game.

CB approved the appointment of Ken Berry as art editor for the 1965 Venture, and Dan Mullen, sports editor of the Sentinel. Kitty Wright was appointed to Publications Board.

CB will meet at 7 p.m. next Thursday.

Big Sky Queens To Entertain At Parents' Day

Kitty Ann Quigley, Miss Big Sky Country, and Bonnie Jo Robbins, Miss Montana Centennial, will entertain at the Parents' Day banquet Saturday evening.

The featured speaker will be Robert Pantzer, MSU financial vice president.

Five hundred parents of MSU students are expected at the banquet which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets will be in the mail boxes of students whose parents have made reservations.

They will also be sold at the banquet and at the Lodge desk.

Let's Put Lieut. Governor On Ticket With Governor

Montana voters almost did it again. In early election returns Tuesday it appeared that the state would have a governor of one party and a lieutenant governor of the other.

Contrary to national elections, in which the Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates of one party run on the same ticket, Montana law provides that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor run separately. This makes it possible for the two top state executives to be of different political parties—the most recent example being 1957-60 when Republican J. Hugo Aronson and Democrat Paul Cannon were governor and lieutenant governor respectively.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Roland R. Renne led returns Tuesday for most of the evening while Republican Ted James led the race for lieutenant governor. Only a late rally by Republican Gov. Tim Babcock gave the state two leaders of the same party.

Two obvious problems can result if the governor and lieutenant governor are of different parties:

(1) If a governor should die or become incapacitated, succession by a lieutenant governor of a different party can cause problems in the continuation of programs started by his predecessor.

(2) When a governor leaves the state, the lieutenant governor assumes gubernatorial duties. If the two are of different political parties, absence can lead to partisan political maneuvering and scheming. The governor also may hesitate to leave the state for fear the lieutenant governor may pull some shenanigans.

The lieutenant governor logically should be an assistant or aid to the governor—not a hindrance or competitor.

To correct this situation, an amendment proposal to place the governor and lieutenant governor on the same ticket must pass both houses of the Montana legislature by a two-thirds majority and be approved in the next general election by a majority of those voting.

Just as the President and Vice President from the same party must work together, so must the governor and lieutenant governor.

Resolution of Agreement MSC-MSU Football Game, 1964

"We, the Student Senate of Montana State College and the Central Board of Montana State University have adopted the following resolutions:

- Both governing bodies support statements made by the Dean's offices concerning defacement of campuses before the MSU-MSC games. This statement is:
Parties guilty of defacing or destroying property on either of the two campuses would be held responsible financially for any damage resulting from the raids, and will be suspended for one quarter.
- That one of the opponent's goal posts shall be the property of the victor, with no resistance given by the opposing side.
- That the losing student body president's pants shall be the property of the victorious side at the completion of the football game. Each president shall prepare himself with shorts in the opposing side's school colors.
- That there shall be a permanent "Treasure Chest" traveling trophy, the after-game presentation of which shall be handled jointly by the Fangs and Bear Paws.
- That the host student governing body shall arrange specific activities including a joint meeting and luncheon for the guest student governing body prior to the MSU-MSC game.
- That having been approved by the student governing bodies, these resolutions shall be binding until they are revised at the annual joint meeting of both student governing bodies.
- That the approved resolutions prepared by the joint student governing bodies shall be published in the respective school newspapers and be posted for one week prior to the game.

Homecoming Co-Chairman Apologizes To Skydivers for Sarcastic Remarks

To the Kaimin:

I must admit that my first letter to the Kaimin concerning the Skydivers was unnecessarily sarcastic, and I would like to apologize to the members of the MSU Skydivers Club for insulting them or their abilities.

Let me say a few things regarding John Kersich's letter and the letter written by three students in the law school.

I gathered from Mr. Kersich's letter that he thinks Mr. Whitwell was Homecoming chairman, and that I worked under him. There were two Homecoming co-chairmen, not one general chairman; Mr. Whitwell is the director of the University Band. He was in complete charge of halftime activities only.

Certainly no one has a "monopoly" on selection of Homecoming activities, but someone has to take charge. Unfortunately, this person or persons cannot please everyone, although he (or they) should by all means strive to please the majority. I'm not sure why the Skydivers were not included, for no one seems to know all the circumstances involved.

The Homecoming committee does use student funds, and certainly the students deserve a good chairman or good co-chairmen, as the case may be. I only wish students were more interested in helping to plan these things. To illustrate, we never had more than seven people at any committee meeting. Out of four or five thousand students, there are surely more than seven interested enough in Homecoming to help in its planning. I am not trying to arouse pity or complain that we were overburdened. I merely think that a better representation of the student body could naturally plan a more effective Homecoming.

We would welcome suggestions from any students concerning improvements that could be effected by next year's committee. You may rest assured that the following one will be included in the final report of this year's committee: Have the MSU Skydivers jump at halftime.

Again, let me apologize to all concerned. I see that my sarcastic garbage obscured the point of my last letter, and hope that I have offended no one with this.

Your no-longer-embittered co-chairman,

BOB MILLER

Student Union Is a Program, Organization

By MARY HOMER

The student union is not just a building; it is also an organization and a program.

As the "living room" of the University, the union provides for the services, conveniences and amenities the members of the college family need in their daily life on campus.

The Program Council is an organ of the student union. The council is divided into eight committees and is headed by Chairman Dale Schwanke, Vice-chairman Todd Myhre and Secretary Mary Sullivan.

Each committee within Program Council is responsible for a particular area of the program. Patti Pierce of the Art Committee secures the art shows that are on display outside the bookstore.

The College Inn is under the management of Lynn Putnam.

The Recreation Committee promotes leisure activities and tries to make students aware of the campus facilities. Dennis Miney is responsible for organizing tournaments and for stimulating individual recreation.

Tuesday Topics is the main endeavor of Barbara Jo Whitney's Cultural Committee. Miss Whitney schedules speakers to cover any topic of any department which she feels would interest the students.

Friday at Four, in the College Inn, and the Sunday Jazz Session in the Yellowstone Room are up to Julius Preite as chairman of the Live Entertainment Committee.

Foreign films are shown every Friday night that there is no other demand for the University Theater and regular movies show every Sunday night and cost only 25 cents.

Schedules are available at the Lodge desk. This is the work of Emily Melton's Movies Committee.

Responsibility for publicizing the Student Union activities falls on Cheryl Hutchinson.

John Edwards, as Social Chairman, makes the arrangements for registration dances, orientation dances and in the past for Show Boat, the annual dinner dance during winter quarter.

Money for the Program Council's activities is taken from the student registration fees. The budget is worked out by the Program Council and its adviser, Raymond Chapman.

The union through the Program Council is a part of MSU's informal education.

the fraternity play-off trophy. Sigma Nu already won the regular season title and trophy.
The game was designed to give the houses with a smaller membership a chance to win some of the trophies. Therefore, Sigma Nu will spot ATO 21 points before the start of the game. All other aspects of the game will be played under regular rules.
The fraternity league lists SN, Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Phi Epsilon in the big house group, with ATO, Theta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi and Phi Sigma Kappa in the small house category.

MSU Wins 12 of 15 Firsts In Invitational Pistol Match

MSU's pistol team made an excellent showing by walking off with top honors in their Invitational Match yesterday, according to coach S/Sgt. Wallace D. French.
The shooters nabbed 12 of 15 first places and 28 places in all. Outstanding on the team were Bruce Fried, who won over-all men's master category, and Mary Jo Stephen, who was first in all five matches in the women's master category.
Pistol matches are shot in a standing position and each category is divided into five matches: slow fire, timed fire, rapid fire, a combination of the three and an aggregate total.

Other MSU club members to place were:
Men's master—Roger Stang, two seconds and two thirds; Kerme Stryon, a second and third, and Kurt Jorgensen, a third.
Women's master — Kathleen Buettgenbach, two seconds and three thirds, and Jean Louise Jackson, a second.
Men's marksman—Dale Huhtanen, three firsts and a second.

Internal War Flares Within GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—A conservative-vs.-liberal battle shaped up inside the Republican party in the aftermath of the GOP's crushing defeat.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, criticized by liberals in his party, declared that his loss to President Johnson does not mean that conservatism is dead.

He said he has every intention of staying around to help build the party into a winning force with a philosophy he likes.

On the other hand, the Republican national committeeman for Michigan, John Martin called for a housecleaning of the present party leadership, starting with the ditching of National Chairman Dean Burch.

Martin is a supporter of Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan, who won re-election after refusing to support Goldwater for president.

Martin said the Republican National Convention in nominating Goldwater made "a terrible mistake" by committing the party to "an extreme course with which the people had no sympathy."

Similarly, the Republican state chairman of New York, Fred Young, said the party must now set a course of "responsible moderation" after its "ill-advised, badly led swing to the extreme right."

Henry Cabot Lodge, another politician who tried to head off Goldwater's nomination, said, "We Republicans must rebuild our party."

Lodge, who will be 66 when another presidential year rolls around, is less likely to be considered for the 1968 GOP nomination than Romney, who will be 61.

Demos Sweep State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

From the presidency to the statehouse, Democrats scored impressive victories in Montana's general election, but once again missed out on the governor's chair.

A near record number of Montana voters, nearly 270,000 or 82 per cent of those eligible, returned Democrats to nine of 13 statewide partisan contests.

Only U.S. Rep. James F. Battin, Gov. Tim Babcock, Ted James, the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, and Auditor E. V. Omholt survived the avalanche of Democratic votes that paralleled the party's spectacular showing throughout the nation.

WASHINGTON

The little consolation Republicans found in the Democratic landslide was largely at the statehouse level. They wound up with one more governorship than they held before the voting.

Including holdovers, Democrats will control 33 statehouses and Republicans 17. In the 25 races Wednesday, Democrats won 17 and Republicans 8.

LA PAZ, Bolivia

An army revolt Wednesday toppled the 12-year regime of President Victor Paz Estenssoro. He fled with his family and aides to Peru, leaving the reins of power in the hands of a military junta.

The rebellion head, armed forces commander Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia, told the nation after the 24-hour uprising: "I have assumed the responsibility of the government to form a military junta that will take charge as of now."

MOSCOW

Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China is coming to Moscow for a meeting of world Communist leaders which could have far-reaching effects on the Soviet-Chinese split.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Wednesday that delegations from every Communist-governed country except Albania will gather in Moscow Saturday for the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution. Private talks on the Peking-Moscow feud are likely.

Education Prof Tours Poland On Field Study

James Thrasher, head of the education department, will begin an extensive field study tomorrow of "Education Under Communism" in Warsaw, Poland. Mr. Thrasher left Missoula by plane Tuesday night.

Phi Delta Kappa, professional education fraternity, is sponsoring the seminar and tour. It will include about 75 school administrators and college and university educators from the United States.

They will visit six communist countries including Warsaw, Poland; Moscow, U.S.S.R.; Bucharest, Rumania; Belgrade, Yugoslavia; Budapest, Hungary and Prague, Czechoslovakia.

During the three week tour, the educators will visit schools of each educational level, and attend lectures and conferences with local educators and government officials.

The purpose of the trip is to give American educators a knowledge and understanding of the efforts of education in the Communist countries, Mr. Thrasher said.
